

California Wildlife Center

Spring Open House: Sunday May 4, 2008

There's a lot going on up at the Center these days.

If you haven't visited us yet, or if you'd like to see what's new, join us at our

Spring Open House
May 4, 2008
Noon – 4 p.m.
26026 Pioma Road, Calabasas, CA 91302

Refreshments served – Children welcome
To RSVP or for more information, call (818) 222-2658

Meet the Staff: Ask the Marine Mammal Response Team about why seals and sea lions “strand” themselves on the beach and what you can do to help.

Guided Tours: View an informative video followed by a tour of the Center led by one of our knowledgeable volunteers. You will visit the 24-hour intensive care hospital, the new Secondary Animal Care Unit and species-specific outdoor enclosures where animals are being rehabilitated in preparation for their release back into the wild.

Busy Baby Season (April through September): Spring will be in full swing during your visit – a time when CWC cares for large numbers of baby animals that have been separated from their parents, as well as animals that are sick or injured. To learn more about what to do if you find an animal that needs help, pick up copies of our free “Living with Wildlife” guidelines.

CALIFORNIA
WILDLIFE
CENTER

California Wildlife Center is a 501(C)(3) nonprofit wildlife care organization dedicated to providing emergency rescue for marine mammals, full service rehabilitative care for local wildlife and ultimately health and freedom to sick, injured and orphaned wild animals in Los Angeles County. CWC promotes the protection of wildlife and the environment through education, training and partnerships with the community. www.californiawildlifecenter.org
